NOTE.—The foregoing list of lands embraces some of the best selections in the State of Arkansas, especially that portion of them which were mortgaged for stock. The interest of the bank in the stock lands consists of the right to possession and the equity of redemption under the original stock mortgages. Since the report of the 1st October, 1856, the receiver has sold this interest in 15,630 96-100 acres of stock lands held by the bank, at an average of twenty dollars per acre, payable in state bonds; and in effecting sales of such interest, and fixing the value of the same, the stock mortgage is taken into consideration, so that a purchaser can obtain titles to such lands at a fair price, by complying with the provisions of the 8th and 9th sections of the act of the General Assembly of Arkansas, entitled "an act to amend an act establishing a separate court of chancery at the seat of government," etc., passed and approved 13th January, 1857; which sections provide as follows:

"SEC. 8. Any person, who may have given any stock mortgage to the Real Estate Bank of the State of Arkansas, or the representatives of any such person, may provide a fund for the redemption of the lands embraced in the mortgage by depositing with the state treasurer any bonds or coupons that were issued by the state to the bank, and that were sold by the bank; and when such bonds and coupons shall have become payable, and a sufficient amount thereof, with the interest accrued, shall have been deposited to pay the amount of stock and accrued interest, for which the lands were mortgaged, such depositor, or his representatives, shall be entitled to have the mortgage canceled, and to hold, and to have right to the lands, free from any incumbrance on account of such mortgage, and such depositor or his representatives may apply to the court of chancery, having jurisdiction of the matter, for confirmation of his title."

"SEC. 9. The deposit, with the treasurer, of the bonds, as provided for in the preceding section, shall not be taken as a payment into the treasury of the state, and shall not work a cancellation or satisfaction of the bonds, but the treasurer shall hold them as a trustee for the depositor, for the state, and for all parties concerned, and such bonds shall draw interest as othe. outstanding unredeemed bonds. till final settlement of the stock debt, and satisfaction of the stock mortgage, as provided for in the foregoing section. And in such settlement, if there be any excess of bonds and interest over the stock debt and interest, the depositor shall have such excess refunded to him. And on deposit of bonds and coupons, as provided for, the treasnrer shall give to the depositor three certificates, describing the bonds and coupons deposited, by whom, and against what lands deposited; of which certificates, one shall remain on file in the auditor's office, one with the receiver of the assets of the Real Estate Bank, and one shall be retained by the depositor; and for receiving each deposit and giving certificates thereof, the treasurer shall receive three dollars, to be paid by the depositor," etc.

Balance			$ 785759 13

NOTE.—A large portion of the above item of $411,412 11, bills and notes, turned over by the trustees to the receiver, and classed as worthless, is composed of debts due the bank for loans to stockholders on stock credit account, and the mortgages of such stockholders have been foreclosed, and their stock lands purchased under the decrees by the trustees; which is all that can be realized from that description of debts. A portion of the debts classed as doubtful, will probably be realized by compromises. The lands, if estimated at the average rate of the sales during the last two years, as exhibited by Statement No. 7, would produce almost twice the amount in bonds, of the estimate of their value, stated above, but on account of the conflict in the titles to many of them, their value is estimated at a sum that can certainly be realized for them; which sum, with the amount of debts classed as good, and the other assets above stated, deducted from the amount of liabilities this day, leaves a deficiency of $1,280,626 96 of assets to meet such liabilities.
